Various numerical and analytical methods have been used to investigate the models of real world phenomena. Namely, real world models from quantum physics have been investigated by many researchers. This research topic aims to promote and exchange new and important theoretical and numerical results to study the dynamics of complex physical systems. In particular, the research topic will focus on numerical and analytical methods for nonlinear partial differential equations which have applications for quantum physical systems. Authors are encouraged to introduce their latest original research articles. The research topic will cover but is not limited to the following themes: mathematical methods in physics, representations of Lie groups in physics, quantum fields, advanced numerical methods and techniques for nonlinear partial differential equations, Schrödinger classical and fractional operators, conservation laws.

Jaguar - All the Cars (4th Edition) 2016-03-18

The world of rallying was changed forever on January 1st 1982 with the introduction of the new Group B rules. These virtually gave manufacturers carte blanche to design the fastest car they could for World Rally Special Stages so long as they built at least 200 identical examples. This is the story of Lancia’s mid-engined and supercharged rally. The reader is taken from initial thinking about the car and conception through development to the full history of its rallying lifetime. With the help of the car designer and chief engineer Ing. Sergio Limone featuring many of Limone’s own photographs during development and interviews with team members illustrated with 250 stunning and rare rally action photos.
